Majoring in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences

Through its 9 departments and several interdisciplinary programs, the College of Humanities and Social Sciences offers different undergraduate majors leading to bachelor's degrees. The degree programs are listed by department on pages 5-6.

Most Humanities and Social Sciences degree programs are Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) programs. In addition, the college offers six B.S. (Bachelor of Science) programs. These B.S. degrees are in: History; Interdisciplinary Studies; Philosophy; Political Science; Science, Technology & Society; and Sociology. B.A. programs require relatively more humanities and social sciences courses than B.S. programs, which require relatively more science and math courses than B.A. programs.

The college also offers the B.S.W. (Bachelor of Social Work) degree.

Degree requirements are generally divided into four categories: general education program requirements, college requirements, major (departmental) requirements, and free electives. Pages 7-9 give the university and college general education requirements for Humanities and Social Sciences B.A., B.S.W., and B.S. degrees. Major requirements may be found online at MyPack or Registration & Records Degree Requirements.

Additional information about majors is given on departmental websites, links to which may be found on pages 2-4. See also pages 5-6 for departmental requirements as they pertain to residency and graduation.

Advising

Every student is assigned an academic advisor, who may be a professional staff advisor or a faculty advisor. It is your advisor's responsibility to provide you with information about academic requirements and procedures, and to assist you as you plan your academic program. Take advantage of the support your advisor can provide. Go to see your advisor early during your first semester at NC State and get to know her/him. Be aware that if you have a problem or a question that you want your advisor to help with, it will usually be up to you to approach the advisor. S/he will not know you need help unless you ask for it.
Incoming students are given the names of their advisors, or may look them up on their personal Student Center page in MyPack Portal. If you do not see your advisor's name in MyPack, please contact the Director/Coordinator of Advising for your program, listed on pages 2-4.

Despite the role played by your advisor, primary responsibility for planning your individual program and for meeting academic requirements and deadlines belongs to you, the student. You must keep informed about satisfactory academic progress by consulting your Degree Audit periodically to track your progress toward graduation. Contact your academic advisor if you encounter problems. Seek assistance as soon as a problem arises.

In addition to your advisor, the Humanities and Social Sciences Academic Support Center (ASC) offers walk-in advising. Step right up to the booths in Caldwell Lounge between 9:00-4:00 Monday through Thursday and 9:00-12:00 on Friday for help with anything from how to navigate MyPack, to registration procedures, GEP and degree requirements, college and university policies, and university resources. They can also assist with issues such as academic planning, major/career planning, study skills, time management, priority setting, preparation for graduate or law school, and preparation of personal statements for graduate school or internships. ASC is not a replacement for your advisor.

Progress Toward Degree
University policy requires students to make steady progress toward completing the requirements of the degree program in which they are enrolled. Failure to maintain compliance with the regulation will result in the student having to submit an appeal in order to continue at the university. A planning tool available via MyPack Portal helps students plan the courses they will take to complete their requirements. Please see University Progress Toward Undergraduate Degree Regulation for more information.

Changing Majors
NC State students who wish to change to or add a College of Humanities and Social Sciences major should consult the intra-campus transfer requirements and preferred qualifications given on page 13. Humanities and Social Sciences students who wish to change to or add a major in another NC State college should consult the intra-campus transfer requirements for the desired major at the Policies, Regulations and Rules web page. From MyPack Portal, students may use the “What If” feature to request temporary degree audits, which show how the courses they have completed will fit into a different major. Please see University Intracampus Transfer Regulation for more information. Students may submit a Change of Degree Application (CODA) through the university’s CODA system four times a year. See CODA Webpage for application periods.

Double Majoring
For students who are pursuing two separate degrees within the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, the following restrictions apply:

1) No more than nine hours of overlap coursework may be counted in the two majors’ departmental requirements. (There is no restriction on the amount of overlap that is allowed in general education program requirements, college requirements, or free electives.)

2) A student may be awarded only one of the following degrees: B.A. in Sociology (16SOCBA), B.S. in Sociology (16SOCBS) or B.A. in Criminology (16CRIMBA).

Foreign Language 201
The College of Humanities and Social Sciences offers courses in 13 non-English languages (course prefixes listed in parentheses): Arabic (FLA), Chinese (FLC), French (FLF), German (FLG), Greek (GRK), Hindi-Urdu (FLN), Italian (FLI), Japanese (FLJ), Latin (LAT), Persian (PER), Portuguese (FLP), Russian (FLR) and Spanish (FLS).

All Humanities and Social Sciences Bachelor of Arts degree programs require study of one foreign language through at least the first semester of the intermediate level (201-level course). Foreign Language and International Studies majors complete more advanced courses in the language of their major.

For placement information, high school students should take the SAT II-Foreign Language Test in the foreign language they have studied in high school. Alternatively, students may take the Advanced Placement (AP) Foreign Language or Literature exam, the International Baccalaureate (IB) Foreign Language or Classical Language exam (Higher Level), or the NC State Foreign Language Placement Test for foreign language placement.

The NC State Foreign Language Placement Test is offered in Chinese, French, German, Latin, and Spanish. Opportunity to take it is provided during New Student Orientation and at other times. Students may take the NC State Foreign Language Placement Test only one time in a given language.

Students who wish to complete the Humanities and Social Sciences foreign language requirement in a language they have not previously studied are not required to take a foreign language placement test.

Native speakers of languages other than English do not receive credit for lower division (100- and 200-level) courses in their native language. For these students, a 201-level foreign language course is not a graduation requirement; their foreign language requirement is replaced by a 3-credit free elective. Students should contact Dr. Scott Despain, 319 Withers Hall, for waiver information.

Students must enroll in foreign language at the level at which they are placed. Students who take a 101-level course in the language of their high school foreign language proficiency will not receive graduation credit for the course. 102- and 110-level language courses may count as free electives in all Humanities and Social Sciences curricula. Students who place into a 202-level or higher language course will have met the Humanities and Social Sciences foreign language requirement after taking the course into which they are placed. Such students are eligible to receive three hours of placement credit by enrolling in the course into which they are placed and earning a grade of C- or better on the first attempt.

More information on foreign language placement is at: Foreign Language Placement Information Webpage.

GEP Mathematical Sciences
MA 101 is a lower-level course that may not be used to meet the GEP Mathematics requirement, nor for graduation credit in any capacity. MA 108 may not be used to meet the GEP Mathematics requirement, but it may be used as a free elective as long as the student does not also take MA 111.

Credit is not given for more than one of the following: MA 121, 131 or 141. Students will not be given credit for MA 111 if they have taken MA 107 or MA 108.

Advanced Science/Technology Requirement -- A 15-hour concentration in one area of science, technology or mathematics, approved by the student's advisor and the College of Humanities and Social Sciences assistant dean. The form for this requirement should be submitted and approved no later than your junior year. A total GPA of 2.0 is mandatory in this requirement.

Registering for Classes

Attend Orientation - If you are an incoming freshman or transfer student, attend the appropriate, mandatory orientation session. Orientation is invaluable to you as a new enrollee at NC State, and will answer many questions you might already have concerning the enrollment process and your course of study. Complete information, including a New Student Checklist and schedules for orientation sessions, is available from New Student Programs (New Student Programs Website).

See Your Advisor – Returning students should meet with their advisors prior to their enrollment date. Although it is your responsibility for planning your program of study and meeting degree requirements, advisors will offer valuable advice to help you achieve your goals. Advisors are located in the department of your major (e.g. Department of History, Department of English). After you have satisfied your department's requirements for having your hold released, your advisor will release the advising hold, enabling you to register for courses during your Enrollment Dates, as specified on MyPack.

Register for Classes – You will register for classes using MyPack, an online, self-service application. In addition to being the site for registration, MyPack gives you access to your academic and financial (student account) records. You will need your Campus ID number and your Unity ID to register. Your Unity ID and Campus ID number are generated by the Office of Information Technology (OIT). If you have any problems with either of these please call OIT at 919-515-HELP.

There are two places you can go to determine what courses are required in your degree program:

  MyPack -- This site includes your own Degree Audit, which is based on the curriculum requirements for the major into which you have matriculated. Courses that you have already completed or that are in progress are entered on your Degree Audit. (Important note: Do not worry if all of your transfer or advanced placement credits are not entered into your Degree Audit by the time you first register. However, if credits you believe you have earned do not appear on your Degree Audit by the end of your first month of taking NC State classes, contact your advisor.)

  Registration & Records Degree Requirements – This website displays curricula by degree audit requirement categories. Click on Humanities and Social Sciences and then on your particular major to find your curriculum.

Progress Toward Undergraduate Degree -- All undergraduate degree-seeking students who entered either as first-time first-year students or transfer students are subject to the Satisfactory Academic Progress regulation. Satisfactory Academic Progress is tracked with the Degree Audit located on MyPack.

AP scores and transfer credits -- Typically posted on the student's Degree Audit at the beginning of the semester, if applicable. Check your schedule and credits carefully to ensure your schedule does NOT include courses for which you may have received Advanced Placement (AP) or Transfer credit. Credit will not be awarded twice for the same course. Additional information is also available on the Undergraduate Admissions webpage, or at the AP and Transfer Equivalencies sites listed below.

Advanced Placement Credit & Scores
Helpful Hints

- Do not take any courses for credit only, unless you intend to use them as Free Electives. You must earn the equivalent of a C- grade to receive a grade of S (D+, D and D- grades are graded as U). Changes to or from Credit Only grading cannot be made after the drop/revision deadline.

- If you are registered for fewer than 15 hours, your deadline to drop a 3-credit course is census day (10th day of classes in Fall and Spring; 3rd day of classes in Summer sessions).

- Be aware of all university deadlines. See the University Academic Calendar.

- If you are registered for a course and do not attend, do not assume you are automatically dropped from the course. Check your schedule to verify that you are not registered; otherwise, if your name is on the roll you will receive an "F". This should be done before the last day to drop a class.

- To graduate in four years (without attending summer school), students must complete approximately 15 credit hours per semester (120 credits are required for graduation in all Humanities and Social Sciences curricula).

- Some courses are listed in the Schedule of Courses as “restricted.” Do not assume you cannot take a restricted course. If you are in doubt about a restriction, try adding the class to your schedule. MyPack will not let you add the class if you do not meet the criteria.

- Some classes are paired (e.g., lecture with a specific lab/problem session). Make sure you register for both parts.

- Do not register for courses for which you have not completed the prerequisites. The course descriptions for each course (click on the course title to see the description) give the prerequisites that you must have completed before taking the course.

- Graduation credit will only be awarded once for the same course. This includes Advanced Placement credit and transfer course credit. Additionally, some NC State courses are very similar to each other or include overlapping course material, and credit will only be awarded once. Pay close attention to course descriptions and registration information to ensure you do not register for a course that duplicates one you have already taken (or have AP, dual enrollment, or transfer credit for).

- Any time you make a change to your schedule, double check that your desired change was processed in the manner you desired. Often times, students think they do one thing but end up doing something different.

- MyPack Portal will not let you register for two classes that overlap in time, even by five minutes.

- A Term Advisement hold only affects future semesters. Such a hold does not affect access to current courses; students can make changes to current courses (e.g. drop/add, pass/fail grading) within the add/drop periods with this hold present.

- There are several types of enrollment holds. In addition to a Term Advisement Hold for the next semester, there are holds based on financial/payment issues, student conduct issues, or missing official paperwork (e.g., student health forms). Be sure to clear all your holds in a timely manner so that you may register at your scheduled time.

- Students can identify their advisor on MyPack.
Academic minors are not required, but may be added to enhance a student’s academic program. Minors total at least 15 credit hours; they may be offered within one department or may be interdisciplinary. Students must do two things to receive official recognition of their minor(s). First, they must declare a minor by obtaining the necessary signature on the Declare Minor Form. This informs your major and minor advisor about your interest in pursuing the minor. To have the completed minor noted on your final transcript, students must obtain and complete a minor application with the minor department and submit all necessary paperwork to the college Dean’s Office, 106 Caldwell Hall, by the beginning of the semester in which they intend to graduate.

Students cannot earn a minor within their major field of study. Generally, no more than three hours of overlapping coursework may be counted in a minor and a major OR between any two minors. However, some minors will permit six hours between major and minor; please check with the minor advisor.

The minors listed below are offered by the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. Additional minors are available from other NC State departments. For a complete list of minors offered by the university, refer to: University Academic Minors.

A copy of the minor application must be submitted to 106 Caldwell Hall at the beginning of the final semester before graduation.

Career Planning Should Begin Early

Academic advising and career planning are closely intertwined. First-year students as well as seniors benefit by talking to their advisors about careers and by talking to a career counselor about their choice of major.

The Career Development Center is located at 2100 Pullen Hall. Phone number 515-2396, online: Career Development Center

Two individuals who work directly with students in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences are:
Courtney Jones, Career Identity Coach, cgjones5@ncsu.edu
Sarah Wild, Career Counselor, swild@ncsu.edu

To explore connections between majors and careers, visit NC State Majors.
Intracampus Transfer

Intracampus Transfer (CODA) is the process for intra-campus transfer; it is a centralized, internet-based application system in MyPack Portal. Applications are accepted four times per year and students are able to indicate a first- and second-choice major. Application dates may differ by college. Please check the CODA website for details: Change of Degree Application.

Students who wish to change to another major in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences or to add a second major in Humanities and Social Sciences will be eligible to submit a CODA application once they have completed at least 12 letter-graded hours and have a GPA of at least 2.0. Departments will review all applicants on a competitive basis. Candidates who meet the preferred qualifications outlined below have a higher probability of being accepted for admission. However, meeting the preferred qualifications does not guarantee admission to the desired major.

Preference is given to applicants with a total cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher.

For students with a total cumulative GPA below 3.0, preference is given to those who have:
