

International Programs Committee Update

- CHASS faculty will participate in or lead over 25 study abroad programs around the world in Summer 2011.
- CHASS will offer at least 5 $1000 study abroad scholarships.
- As part of International Week this November, CHASS co-sponsored the International Tea and Coffee that took place in Caldwell Hall Lounge. CHASS faculty member, Diane Beckman, and an MIS graduate student also participated in the Study Abroad Symposium.
- During the Spring semester, a concerted effort will be made to get CHASS faculty to join the Office of International Affairs' Database of International Connections and Expertise (DICE) to create a directory of international interests across the College.
