

PATSY A. SIBLEY

pasibley@ncsu.edu
(919) 515-7999

EDUCATION

Ph.D.	North Carolina State University Psychology	Dec 2015
M.S.	North Carolina State University Psychology	Dec 2013
B.S.	The University of Alabama Psychology	May 2007

PROFESSIONAL APPOINTMENTS

Teaching Assistant Professor 2017 - present
Interdisciplinary Studies
North Carolina State University

WISE Scholar-in-Residence 2015 – 2017
Organize and mentor undergraduate research experiences, advise students, and create programming that offers extracurricular engagement with topics of diversity and cultural competency for the Women in Science and Engineering living/learning village.

RELEVANT COURSES DEVELOPED

STS 403 – Senior STS Seminar on Technology & the Body
STS 214 – Introduction to Science, Technology, & Society
WGS 350 – Feminist Futures
WGS 210 - Women and Gender in Science and Technology
WGS 293 - Gender and Science Fiction

RELEVANT MANUSCRIPTS

Sibley, P.A. & Crane-Seeber, J. (invited chapter in prep) “STEM peer mentoring in queer communities.” In A. Rockinson-Szapkiw & K. Wade-Jaimes (Eds.), The STEM peer mentoring relationship: A culturally responsive guide for women and underrepresented minority women.

SELECTED TALKS & WORKSHOPS

“Beyond Inclusion: From women in engineering to a feminist engineering framework” – Keynote presentation at the We are WE: Women in Engineering Symposium, Raleigh, NC, 2019.

“Thriving in STEM” – given as the annual WISE Welcome Address to the Women in Science and Engineering Initiative at North Carolina State University, 2018

“Strategies for a Gender Inclusive STEM Classroom” – Workshop developed and presented through the NC State Office of Faculty Development, 2017

“Privilege, power, & normativity: Understanding intersectional identities”
- Duke University Talent Identification Program Scholarly Series, Duke University, Durham, NC, 2016

“Feminism before Beyonce: How the radical became marketable”
- Duke University Talent Identification Program Scholarly Series, Duke University, Durham, NC, 2015
- TriVillage Speaker Series, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC, 2015

“Exploration without Marginalization: Diversity in Social Science Research”
- Research and Underrepresented Populations Forum, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC, 2014

SELECTED RESEARCH PRESENTATIONS

George, C.*, & Sibley, P.A. (2019, April). Women in Math: Representation, Beliefs, and Future Selves. Poster presented at the NC State Undergraduate Research Symposium, Raleigh, NC.

Sibley, P.A. (2018, February). Analyzing STEM education interventions: Theories & best practices. Paper presented to the 2018 Diversity in STEM Symposium, Raleigh, NC.

Pridgen, R.*, & Sibley, P.A. (2016, December). Teaching Subjectivities: Feminist pedagogical interventions for elementary science education. Paper presented to the 2016 Feminisms Here & Now conference, Chapel Hill, NC.

Clayton, J.R., & Sibley, P.A. (2015, January). Writing Science, Doing Science: Science Studies and the FYWP. Paper presented at the 2015 North Carolina Symposium for Teaching Writing, Raleigh, NC.

* denotes an undergraduate coauthor